—Dr. Marion White has used antitoxin with satisfactory results on Miss Teressa Sullivan, who is ill with diphtheria. When treated at 5:30 yesterday afternoon the patient's pulse was 122 and her temperture was 103, this morning her pulse was 86 and her temperture 99½; and wonderful change indeed brought about by this powerful antidote.

—The Dixon Cycle Club held what they term a "Smoker" at their club rooms in the Appleford building last night. There were present about thirty members, who enjoyed the entertainment, which consisted in exhibitions of boxing, bag punching, and numerous other athletic performances. We understand the club will hold another "Smoker" next Wednesday night.

—Dr. A. L. Miller is very much pleased over the reselts obtained by the use of antitoxin. Miss Alvina Bothe was treated with the liquid and in a few hours her temperature was reduced to normal and in twenty-four hours the membrane had entirely disappeared. This is a highly satisfactory result. The remedy is injected into the system and works very rapidly.

—It would seem that happiness as well as misery seeks company This perhaps will account for the fact that W. W. Downing awakened his neighbors about midnight with the announcement that he had just corralled an invader at his homestead—a tall and rather fine-looking young fellow, who notwithstanding his eloquent appeal that it was his first attempt at anything of the kind, received a life sentence. The young chap soon became submissive and reconciled to his arrest. He is now about seventeen hours old and weighs eleven pounds.

—We have before mentioned W. C. Jones improvement in roller skates, which is destined to work a revival of that healthful amusement under greatly improved conditions. It consists in the simple attachment of rubber cushion tires to the wooden rollers. This not only makes the skates much safer and easier to learn on; but does away with the necessity of chalking floors, and does away with all dust and noise. Rink skating under these conditions is just as delightful an exercise as skating on ice, without its dangerous exposure to cold winds while in an overheated condition.

—One of the most expensive books ever published will be "The Life of Christ," soon to be issued at Tours, France. It will have nearly four hundred illustrations reproduced in color from the paintings by James Tissot, upon the production of which the artist has been engaged for the past ten years. The first twenty copies of the book will sell for $1000 each, and the remaining copies, 990 in all, for $300 each. The publishers ask no less than $12 for a single specimen illustration. By a special concession from the artist and publishers to the Century, that magazine will be enabled to reproduce twelve of the choicest of these pictures in its Christmas number.

—In the Venezuelan trouble it now appears that the United States government has quite as much cause for complaint as England. James Spraight our consul at Demerara, claims that the English are all right and the Venezuelans all wrong. If his testimony is true we have a serious cause to call Venezuela to book ourselves. Dr. Spraight says that the Uruan river has been regarded for years as the boundary between Venezuela and British Guiana. Two American miners named Stevens and Anderson crossed the river from the British side to Venezuela, where they were arrested for he says not what. Sergeant Behrens of the British police interposed in their behalf, whereupon the Venezuelans arrested him and his men.

—Now that our buisness streets are nicely paved and curbed and the telephone company has put in new poles which are to be nicely painted, we would suggest that the city council prohibit the hitching of teams anywhere along the line of the paved portion of these streets, especially as the widening of the sidewalks has materially narrowed the roadway.

—Our Joe Gray advertises "Girl Wanted." You will not find this "ad" in the want column; but on the lapel of Joe's coat there appears a button with that inscription. We presume Joe contemplates jumping into the matrimonial sea, although we have not been officially informed, but as there seems to be no other theory we can advance we think this is the correct conclusion.

—It is rumored, and comes to us in a plausible shape, that Mr. C. M. Henderson proposes that if our citizens, who have raised a certain sum as a bonus for the removal of the Jefferson city shoe factory to Dixon, pay up the sums subscribed, he will not only bring the factory here, but add $500 more to the amount and turn it all over to the Dixon hospital fund. This would be a glorious donation far more munificent than that suggested in THE TELEGRAPH heretofore, and we have no doubt our people would accept such a proposition with thanks, with blessings on the liberal giver. We learn this rumor as we go to press and have not time for verification.

—A small house greeted "On the Stage" last night, but it proved a regular surprise party to those who attended, for the company is one of the finest that has ever been in our city. Every member of the company is an artist worthy of the name, and they kept the audience in a continual roar from the raise to the fall of the cutain. Miss Kitty Wolfe's specialty of playlng on the harp, singing and dancing all at the same time, was a decided novelty—songs by Edward Lawrence, Richard J. Riley and Kitty Beck, were well rendered, loudly encored and in each case responded to by other numbers. Mis Gertrude Haynes' wonderful performance on the Grand Concert organ was wonderful and must be seen to be appreciated. The company play tonight and will undoubtly have a crowded house, for we hear nothing but praise for it by all who attended.

Malone's Reply to Granger.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13, 1895.

EDITOR TELEGRAPH:—

Dear Sir, I see by your paper that C. B. Granger wishes to wrestle me a handicap match, and that he also states that my 165 lbs. means anywhere from 165 lbs. to 190 lbs. Now I wish to state it is entirely wrong, for I can wrestle at 165 if necessary; but as long as he wishes to wrestle a handicap match at catch weights, there is no need for me to weigh exactly that; but I promise him that I shall not weigh very much over 165 lbs. and from what I hear about him I think 150 lbs. is nearer his weight than 135 lbs.

I will wrestle him three weeks from date for 75 per cent of the gate recepts to go to the winner and 25 per cent to the loser, after expenses are deducted. I should like to have articles of aggreement drawn up at once, as I don't want to make any other aggreements to interfere with this.

Yours respectfully,

W. L. MALONE,

134 Lake street Chicago, Ills.

P. S.—From what I hear, he is one of the best men in the country at his weight, so he hadn't ought to kick about a few lbs.

Lawyers Who Make Their Own Wills.

Many celebrated men have neglected to settle their affairs. Ben Jonson, Dryden and Sir Isaac Newton all died intestate, Bacon insolvent, and the epigram on Butler's monument in the abbey sufficiently explains why he and many others like him never made a will:

The poet's fate is here in emblem shown:
He asks for bread and he receives a stone.

"Wills," said Lord Coke, "and the construction of them do more perplex a man than any other, and to make a certain construction of them exceedeth jurisprudentium artem." An old proverb says that every man is either a fool or a physician at 40. Sir H. Halford happening one day to quote the saying to a circle of friends, Canning humorously inquired, "Sir Henry, mayn't he be both?" At any rate experience teaches that lawyers who draw their own wills sometimes make great mistakes. Sir Samuel Romilly's will was improperly worded, Chief Baron Thompson's will became the subject of chancery proceedings, while the will of Bradley, the eminent conveyancer, was actually set aside by Lord Thurlow.—Temple Bar.

A Devout Brother.

The minister had been in the little Kentucky town but a short time, and when he was called on to preach a funeral sermon he thought it best to pick up a few facts about the deceased.

"I trust our brother gone before was a truly religious man?" he said to the surviving brother.

"You bet he was," was the earnest answer. "Why, brother, he never tuk out his gun to lay fer one of the Simmonses without fust prayin three hours."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Chinese Rainmakers.

Chinese rainmakers dress a dog in comic attire and carry it through the streets in the belief that the laughter excited will cause a pleasant frame of mind among the gods and induce them to end a drought. The Chinese claim that their rainmakers are as successful as the American and far less expensive.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

GARLAND STOVES AND RANGES The Worlds Best

NOW, I am of opinion that a person should get some Warmth in this present life of ours, not all in that to come;
So when Boreas blows his blast through country and through town,
Or when upon the muddy streets the stifling fog rolls down,
Go, guzzle in a pub, or plod some bleak malarious grove,
But let me toast my shrunken shanks beside some Yankee stove.

—NOTE.....

This would have been a splendid advertisement for "Garland" Stoves and Ranges had Mr. Field used the word "Garland" instead of "Yankee" in the last line.

M. CAHILL, No. 10 First St.

—Invitations are out for a Thanksgiving masquerade ball by the Monitor Hook & Ladder Company, Wednesday evening, Nov. 27th.

—Last summer Alonzo Gage got his hand in the dog-killing business, and this winter he will get both hands into gloves made from the tanned hides of the killed canines.

—The new diphtheria signs which the health commissioner has caused to be printed should take the place of the old ones, as they contain a digest of the rules to be observed in all cases of quarantined disease and are a legal notification to all persons concerned.

—H. S. Dixon and Fred Hanlon of Dixon, C. F. Preston of Pawpaw, Warren Durkes of Franklin Grove and James Kirby of Alto are the democratic delegates who are in attendance at the district convention today to nominate a candidate for justice of the supreme court.

—Here is scientific surgery for you: A piece of steel was driven into the eye of Joseph Brown of Plainfield, N. J. It was imbedded deep in the eye and could not be extracted by cutting without the entire loss of the eye. At the eye and ear infirmary of New York they applied a powerful magnet, which will hold up 100 pounds. When the point of the magnet was brought near the eye the small piece of steel was drawn from its bed and attached itself to the magnet and the eye will be saved.

—There are rumors on the street of diphtheria cases of which the health officer has received no notification. Some have been published, and being without official verification, may cause annoyance. We wish in this connection to call attention to section 5 of chapter 19 of the Revised Ordinances, page 50, which makes it the duty of all physicians to report to the health commissioner any contagious or infectious disease within twenty-four hours after assuming professional charge of the same, and provides a penalty of from $5 to $50 for each violation of duty.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY.

Shuler Kills His Reputed Wife and Daughter.

ACCOUNT CLOSED WITH SUICIDE.

Woman and Child Murdered a Few Miles Out of Laredo, Tex.—Murderer Shoots Himself in His Hotel Room When Called on Later—Pension Swindling Case That Recalls Newby's—Arraignment of the Receiver of Barrett's Stolen Goods.

LAREDO, Tex., Nov. 14.—A murder most foul in cruelty, exceeding anything that has ever transpired in this vicinity, has been unearthed. Various stories were circulated as to who the murderer was, but the murderer was found dead, he having committed suicide at the hotel where he had registered Monday with a middle-aged woman and an 8-year-old girl as C. Shuler and family, of San Antonio. The woman had stated that she and her husband were from St Louis, and more recently from Fort Worth, where her son kept a hotel. Her husband had a position in view, she said, with a railway company in Monterey, and they were to leave for that city Tuesday afternoon.

Woman and Girl Found Dead.

About 3 o'clock that afternoon the man procured a horse and buggy, ostensibly to drive his wife and child to the station. About 4:30 he returned the buggy and proceeded to the hotel, ate supper and retired to his room. Very early next morning a Mexican shepherd discovered the bodies lying in some brush about three miles northeast of the city. He immediately notified the city officials, who brought the remains to the morgue. They were identified as having been seen with the so-called Shuler. The chief of police immediately called at the Hotel Hamilton, where he had registered. The proprietor, Mr. Christen, called to Shuler over the transom and immediately received a response. He was asked where his wife and child were, and told that Christen desired to see him.

Shuler Winds Up the Drama.

He replied that he would come to the door very shortly, but after some delay a pistol shot was heard. It was some time before the police could enter the room. The man was found lying dead upon the bed with a bullet in his heart. Under his pillow was found an insurance policy for $3,000 in his own favor and a deed of trust executed for property in East St. Louis. Several letters were found in trunks from various persons, some addressed to William Kuntz, St. Louis and Fort Worth, and others to Caroline Mann, East St. Louis and Dallas.

Was Quite a "Lady's" Man.

Over $1,600 in $100 bills were found upon the man's person, two watches and a charm with "Kuntz" engraved upon it. From papers found it seems that Kuntz is from St. Louis. A large photograph of the man who committed the murder, the same beautiful little girl, but another woman, perhaps 28 or 30 years of age, were found in his room. One letter addressed "Willie," written in German, evidently comes from Hoboken, N. J., or Kingston, N. Y. It was not signed. She calls him husband and asks for money.

Suppose the Negro Had Killed Phillips.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 14.—George Phillips has been acquitted of the charge of killing William Mitchell, a negro, in August last. Phillips, who was a cable car gripman, crushed Mitchell's brains out with an iron rod because the latter would not remove his feet from a car seat. Justifiable homicide was the plea made by the defense.

CHAFFEY BOUND OVER IN $25,000.

Receiver of Barrett's Stolen Property Now Hustling for Bail.

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—Chaffey, who was arrested with such a large quantity of stolen goods in his possession, the "swag" of William Barrett, a noted criminal now in the penitentiary, has been arraigned in the municipal court charged with receiving forty six spoons and pitchers, all of the value of $313, and all property stolen from persons unknown; and also of receiving on Nov. 11 1,000 pieces of commercial paper, valued at $6,000, also the property of persons unknown.

Chaffey waived examination and Judge Hardy, after being informed that other and similar charges were to be preferred covering property valued at from $15,000 to $20,000 and stocks and bonds of the face value of $200,000, real value unknown, ordered bail to be fixed at $25,000 in two securities for the December grand jury. The prisoner was taken back to the Tombs and and an effort is being made by his friends to secure the necessary bondsmen.

RECALLS THE WILLIAM NEWBY CASE.

James V. Busby Draws the Pension of Another Man Who Is Living.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Nov. 14.—The arrest of James V. Busby, who has been lodged in jail here by federal officers for presenting fraudulent pension claim, brings to light a second Bill Newby case. Busby was arrested at the home of his son, John Busby, Colusa, Hancock county, Ills., and waiving examination was lodged in jail here until Judge Allen's return from Chicago, when he will be sent to Kansas City, Mo., for trial.

Busby is 66 years old and very infirm. He says he resides with his daughter, Mrs. Ida Morris, 713 East Seventeenth street, Kansas City, Mo. He says he served in the Second Missouri cavalry, and acknowledges presenting a claim for pension representing him to be George W. Eaton. It seems that Eaton is living and had a claim in for a pension, and in this way the fraud was discovered.

Only Two Persons Injured.

BAY CITY, Mich., Nov. 14.—A train on the North Midland division of the Michigan Central, consisting of an engine, one combination baggage and smoking car and one coach, struck a broken rail three-quarters of a mile east of Auburn. The two cars left the rails and tipped over. There were but two persons on the train and only few were injured. Conductor B. Martin had his shoulder dislocated and a passenger named William Glass had his hand cut.

Mrs. Gougar's View of the Verdict.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 14.—Mrs. Helen M. Gougar says that the Morse verdict is a triumph for libel, political corruption, malice and the liquor traffic. She would rather go to the stake for the Prohibition party than be elected president by a party that wins by such methods.

CASE OF INTEREST TO VETERANS.

Old Soldier Preference Act Up Before Bay State Supreme Court.

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—The full bench of the supreme judicial court heard arguments on a case brought against the civil service commissioners by F. B. Brown to test the new veteran preference act. In the case the petitioner prays for a writ of mandamus to compel the respondents to certify his name for appointment as a member of the state police, he having passed a competitive examination and received the highest mark among the candidates,

The respondents, acting in accordance with the veterans' preference act, certified the name of E. D. Bean over that of the petitioner on the ground that the former was a veteran. The petitioner contends that the act of 1895 is unconstitutional and that he has a right to retain the original position at the head of the eligible list, and asks that the court compel the commissioners to restore him to his rights.

THURMAN IS 82 YEARS OLD.

Notwithstanding His Recent Serious Illness He Has a Good Appetite.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14.—Judge Allen G. Thurman was 82 years old yesterday. On account of his feeble health there was no celebration of the event. Numerous telegrams of congratulation were received from prominent men. Judge Thurman was able to eat heartily, and seems to be rapidly shaking off the effects of his recent injury. The Thurman club, which has visited the Old Roman regularly on his birthday for a number of years, sent a floral piece and resolutions regretting that his recent affliction would not permit the members of the club paying their respects in person. The club extended its heartfelt sympathy in his affliction, and expressed hopes for his speedy recovery. Judge Thurman was much affected when he received the kind remembrance of the club.

FOUR MEN KILLED AND FOUR HURT.

Brief Details of a Railway Wreck on the Southern Road in Alabama.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 14.—A special to The American from Birmingham, Ala., says: Details of the wreck on the Southern railway at America, Ala., discloses the fact that four men were killed and four injured. The collision occurred between a freight train and a work train, the latter backing on the former without placing signals ahead. The casualties were as follows: Tony Cunningham, Moses McGee, Luke Bailey and Steve McDonald—all of the work train—killed; P. J. Matthews, Phillip Sewell (engineer and fireman on the freight), and Pink Wilburn and Andrew Townsend (of the work train) more or less injured. The dead men were in the caboose of the work train which collided with the engine of the freight and were unable to jump as the rest did.

Geiger Seems "Stuck" on Hotels.

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—The Plaza, one of the largest apartment hotels in this city and formerly known as Hotel Grandee, has been sold by auction for $370,000. Albert Geiger, of this city, was the purchaser. This is the third big hotel purchased by Geiger within a few days, the Maplewood in Bethlehem, N. H., purchased for $300,000, and the San Marco in St. Augustine, Fla., for $200,000, being the others recently acquired.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 14.—In July last William Kuntz, who was employed as chief engineer at the Fordheim brewery, left Kansas City to go to Fort Worth, Tex., where he claimed to have a brother living. Kuntz came here from St. Louis in February last, bringing a woman who passed as his wife, and one child. At St. Louis he was employed as master mechanic in the Green Tree brewery.

Drummers' Day at Atlanta.

ATLANTA, Nov. 14.—Drummers' day at the exposition brought 5,000 commercial travelers to the city. The exercises consisted of a street parade of the drummers and gorgeously decorated floats representing the business interests of the city. At the exposition there was a commercial men's congress, at which many matters of interest to the commercial south were discussed.

Another Crank at the White House.

SOVEREIGN'S TALK

To the National Convention of Knights of Labor.

ATTEMPT TO DESTROY THE ORDER

Declared to Have Been a Failure—Capital Denounced and the National Banks Roasted—His Boycott of the Latter's Notes Defended—Declares It a Righteous Movement and Asks the Convention to Give It Official Indorsement.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The chief public interest in the meeting of the Knights of Labor was the addresses of General Master Workman Sovereign and General Worthy Foreman Michael J. Bishop. Much of Sovereign's address was devoted to the alleged treachery of those who headed the revolt against the general officers of the order during the past year. He reviewed what he termed their "devilish treachery," and their efforts to "disrupt the order." He explained the heroic methods which had been used to weed out the disloyalists, and said that today for the first time the order presented to the world a solid and unbroken front "battling for the brotherhood of man and the freedom of labor from the thralldom of greed."

Draws a Very Gruesome Picture.

"Labor is now between the devil and the deep sea," he continued. "Capital has monopolized the elements of production and labor is in competition with itself for the right to live. A money oligarchy is fast wiping out the last vestige of individual liberty. Construction by judicial authority is already given to law placing all labor organizations in the category of criminal conspiracy. Misdemeanors of the most trivial character have been raised to felony without sanction of the law and used to imprison representatives of labor organizations, and injunctions followed by charges of contempt have been used to condemn labor leaders to the felon's cell without evidence of guilt or trial by jury. The associated banks have declared war on the money of the people and the whole plutocratic fraternity has invaded the realm of free government and constitutional security."

His Boycott of National Banks.

He made some suggestions as to the best methods of strengthening the order, but the principal feature of the address was his appeal to the general assembly to give to his recent order boycotting national bank notes its official sanction. He denounced the action of the bankers convention held at Atlanta and said: "After carefully reviewing the wreck and ruin wrought by the money power and the designs of the sound money clubs which propose bonds and gatling guns for a solution of the labor question, I issued a boycott on the notes of national banks, and if I were to die tomorrow I would declare it the most righteous act of my life. It exposed the unsound money of the sound money advocates, threw plutocracy on the defensive and forced the national banks into a humiliating confession of their preposterous acts of bad faith with the people."

Warns Them of Concentrated Wealth.

The address of General Worthy Foreman Bishop also dealt with the attacks made upon the Knights of Labor by the revolting members, and contains an appeal for stronger organizations because of the "abnormal progress made by concentrated wealth and the fact that it is constantly more firmly entrenching itself behind barriers which every day become more difficult to overthrow." He called attention to the evolution of machinery during the last few years and the elimination of human skill from all forms of productive industry.

His View of Labor Saving Machinery.

"This has gone on," he said, "until the typographical compositer, the cigar maker, the locomotive engineer, the skilled worker in wood and other craftsmen hitherto considered safe from the general danger, have this year seen the final quietus of their hopes. In the near future 'common laborer' will be a fitting universal appellation."

Both addresses were referred and the balance of the day was devoted to routine business, including the appointment of the leading committees.

YOUNG WOMAN GETS $15,000,000.

Daughter of a Poor Philadelphia Gardener Possessed of Immense Wealth.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—A remarkable romance in real life comes to light by the sudden and unexpected inheritance of a fortune of $15,000,000 by the 25-year-old daughter of a poor gardener, William Kelly. The legacy comes from the estate of a long dead uncle, Peter Kelly, who amassed a vast fortune in the Australian gold fields over thirty years ago. Peter Kelly was living with his parents in Lancashire, England, when the Australian gold craze broke out, and he went to that land to make his fortune.

Nothing was heard of him until nearly a quarter of a century ago his mother received word that he would soon return home a millionaire. He did not come, however. Inquiry was begun and the son's story of his millions was verified, part of the money being in Australian banks. The family received the interest on the fortune, which was valued at $15,000,000.

Some time ago William Kelly learned of the existence of a will in which all of the estate was bequeathed to his eldest child Elizabeth. At first he made no effort to secure it. Two years ago, however, he engaged an attorney and the enormous legacy will be placed at the disposal of the girl this week.

Jew Baiter Elected Again.

VIENNA, Nov. 14.—Dr. Lueger, the anti-semite leader in the reichsrath, who was re-elected burgomaster of this city on Oct. 29 last and whose election Emperor Francis Joseph refused to sanction, was again re-elected burgomaster in accordance with his announced intention of having himself elected over and over again until the government yields its approval to his election.

Indians Were Killed by Other Indians.

DENVER, Nov. 14.—A special to The News from Mancos, Colo., says: Your correspondent has just returned from the scene of the killing of the two Ute Indians about seven miles north of Mancos. The bodies were found in a tepee on Chicken creek and were certainly killed by other Indians, presumably Utes, as the remnants of two close-by camps were not erased.

ROW IN THE ENDEAVOR SOCIETY.

John G. Wooley Says the Organization Is Under "Boss Rule."

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—John G. Wooley, who has a controversy with President Francis E. Clarke, of the Christian Endeavor, has written a letter to the society at large in which he declares the societies to be under "boss rule," and declares that the "corporation policy" adopted by the management leaves nothing to the judgment of the members. Wooley says: "The president of the corporation that controls the United Societies of Christian Endeavor is also chief owner of the golden rule. There are some 3,000,000 of us 'privates.' We have no president, no trustees, no secretary nor treasurer, no newspaper, no voice, and so I am forced to address you individually by the mail or submit to the injustice and tyranny of boss rule, which I refuse to do for your sake no less than my own."

Wooley then refers to speeches he has made criticising the management and to replies thereto, as well as to an offer he made to drop the matter, which offer received no reply. He says that Messrs. Baer, Shaw and probably Clarke are party Prohibitionists. He thinks it would be better if the 3,000,000 "privates" had "less chaperoning and more responsibility." In his conclusion he says: "Nothing could induce me to lead a division of our society. We ought to be loyal and respectful to our leaders, but leaders are very prone to forget that they owe us loyalty also. And a president of our society whose attitude toward the saloon is indefinite in its ordinary details is deficient in loyalty or bravery or capacity."

WENT TO SEE THE NOBILITY.

Duke and Duchess of Marlborough the Horse-Show Attraction.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The duke and duchess of Marlborough were among the guests at the horse show last night. The scene in the garden when they arrived was more brilliant than at any time during the show. The duke and his bride took seats with Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt—not in a box, but in the first row back of the boxes. The Astors and all the other leaders of society were present so that there was a wonderful display of dress.

Moreover, the attendance of the rank and file of New Yorkers was great, on account of the expectation that the duke and his bride would be visible, so that the horses, which ostensibly form the attraction, were altogether secondary in point of interest. No night in the history of New York horse shows has seen such a crowd as that of last night, and when the whereabouts of the duke and duchess became known their corner was besieged by 1,000 men and women, principally the latter, almost fighting for a glimpse of the section in which nobility sat.

CLAIMS OF BRITISH SEALERS.

Salisbury Comment on the Arguments of Senator Morgan, of Alabama.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The correspondence of the British government with Sir Julian Pauncefote upon the question of the Behring sea compensation from May, 1894, to August, 1895, is issued. In the last letter, dated Aug. 13, Lord Salisbury enclosed a long memorandum in which he says: "The attempt made by Senator John T. Morgan, of Alabama, chairman of the United States senate committee on foreign relations to dispute them [Pauncefote's arguments] seems largely founded on misapprehension and the government cannot doubt that when the facts are placed before the public of the United States the liability of the United States to make compensation, which has never been denied by the government, will generally be recognized both in and outside of congress."

Republicans and Populists Fuse.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 14.—Three hundred Populists, dissaffected Democrats, and Republicans, are holding a conference here. Hon. J. C. Sibley, of Pennsylvania, made a warm silver speech and was loudly cheered. It is possible a new party to be known as the free silver-honest election party will be organized.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 14.—Fusion carried the day at the political conference here, and the Populists and Republicans decided to unite in the state campaign. Resolutions declaring for free silver, opposing the national bank system and advocating "honest elections" by force if necessary, were adopted. Kolb withdrew his opposition to the fusion.

Governor Gives the Lie Direct.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 14.—Governor Brown and W. H. Newhall, a clerk in the auditor's office, quarreled in the state house, passed the lie and would have come to blows had bystanders not interfered. Newhall had accused the governor of voting the Republican ticket and acting the part of a traitor. The executive responded with an emphatic denial and one of them struck at the other, when friends of the two separated them.

Hoke Smith Invited to Speak.

ATLANTA, Nov. 14.—The house of representatives has unanimously adopted a resolution inviting Secretary of the Interior Hoke Smith to address the general assembly on the issues of the day at such a date as he may find convenient. Ex-Speaker Crisp spoke in the hall of the house last night in response to a similar invitation extended last week.

Assaulted His Wife with a Chair.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Nov. 14.—James McGurer's wife, of Wakeshema township, is dying as the alleged result of an assault made by her husband with a chair. According to the report McGurer attacked his wife with a frying pan, but his 18-year-old son interfered. When the son left the house for a few minutes the attack was resumed.

Fatally Shot His Brother-in-Law.

Kimes says Hall has broken up his home, and that they had previously quarreled because of Hall's intimacy with Mrs. Kimes.

Force Met by Force.

DETROIT, Nov. 14.—The township officials attempted to demolish a bridge across the Rouge river, southeast of the city, on the ground that it is unsafe. Some 400 employes of the mills in the neighborhood were called out and resisted the attempt, closing the draw by force.

LONDON SQUARES.

Some of the Quaint Breathing Spots In the English Metropolis.

Some of these are quaint and charming enough, being mostly laid out in the Dutch fashion. Golden square, near Regent street; Red Lion and Queen squares, in Bloomsbury, are capital specimens. The first, though so close to Regent street, might be a dozen miles away. There is a welcome unkemptness; the grass is rank and wild; there are old trees ranged round its border in a symmetrical way. The houses round are picturesque, because each is distinct. It is given over to commission agents, merchants and trade generally, yet within but a few years it was a place of genteel residence, like a usual square, and we find the late Cardinal Wiseman living in a substantial mansion here. Dickens, it will be remembered, placed Ralph Nickleby's house here, which is described on the occasion of the party to Sir Frederick and Sir Mulberry as having almost palatial apartments and the richest furniture. As we wander round, we are struck with the melancholy tone of the inclosure, yet everything seems brisk enough, but it belongs to the old world.

The square itself is very attractive and original, with a sort of Dutch or foreign air. We note the fine trees which shelter it all round in symmetrical lines and the Roman warrior sort of statue in the center, arrayed in full armor and representing George II. The grass and walks are laid out with a certain free and easy carelessness that is very acceptable and contrasts with the trim, shaven, soulless treatment of modern squares. Altogether a visit to Golden square will interest.

Berkeley square every one knows. Yet it has an extraordinary sympathetic attraction from its grass and fine shading old trees. No one, we may be sure, has noted that these leafy patriarchs seem to range in two rows down the middle, like an avenue. The fact is, it was the demesne of the lawn in front of the old Berkeley House, which stood at the back of Devonshire House. The mansions round are very fine, and the iron work, railings, etc., are all admired and to be admired. There are some queer things to be told about squares, for instance, that there was a General Strode who had a mania for setting up statues in squares at his own expense. We have seen equestrian statues in Leicester square propped up with a broomstick, with portions broken away. —Gentleman's Magazine.

The Republic of Jones.

"There was a government in existence within the limits of my state during the late war that I find no mention of in the histories," said Mr. F. M. Holden of Mississippi. "In the early days of secession the county of Jones, through its leading citizens, withdrew from the Confederacy, declared themselves a free and independent people, organized a government, adopted a constitution modeled after that of the United States, called this new government 'the republic of Jones,' elected a president and a full quota of officials and refused to furnish men or money to the southern cause. On the approach of Confederate troops they would retreat to the swamps and other inaccessible places and remain in hiding till the danger had passed. They kept up this queer attitude of hostility to their own brethren, so far as I am informed, to the close of the war, but the republic of Jones passed out of the memory of men with the event of Appomattox, and the mention of it now in that locality is only a cause for smiles."—Washington Post.

The Sources of Religion.

The sources of religion lie hid from us. All that we know is that now and again in the course of ages some one sets to music the tune which is haunting millions of ears. It is caught up here and there and repeated till the chorus is thundered out by a body of singers able to drown all discords and to force the unmusical mass to listen to them. (Page 332.)

We stand on a pass, blinded by mist and whirling snow. If we stand still, we shall be frozen to death. If we take the wrong road, we shall be dashed to pieces. We do not certainly know whether there is any right one. (Page 339.)—From the "Life of Sir James Fitzjames Stephens."

The Newspaper of the Future.

Mr. Edison has an idea that the newspaper of the future will be published by phonograph. His reason for this is that the eyesight of the people is becoming poorer, time is more precious, and that newspapers are so large that it is impossible for people to read them through.

Listen not to a talebearer or slanderer, for he tells thee nothing out of good will, but as he discovereth of the secrets of others, so he will of thine in turn.

Two Questions.

"Can you cook?" asked the cautious young man.

"Can I cook what, and how much?" asked the equally cautious young woman.—Indianapolis Journal.

SHERMAN'S BOOK.

Some Remarks Therein Stir Up General Alger.

THE CONVENTION OF 1888 AGAIN.

Reflections by the Buckeye Senator on the Michigan Soldier Warmly Repudiated—The General for Sherman After Harrison—Other Statements in the Book —Harrison's Nomination the Result of a Bargain, Sherman Says.

DETROIT, Nov. 14.—The attention of General R. A. Alger was called last night to the references to him in the second volume of Senator Sherman's memoirs, the proof-sheets of which have been sent to various newspapers throughout the country. General Alger said: "I am very much surprised that Senator Sherman, laboring under the disappointment of not receiving the nomination, should connect my name with it. If he knows anything about the matter he knows that his charges against me were without foundation. There never was a time when his combined vote and mine would have nominated him in the convention of 1888. My request to my friends was that in case my nomination was not possible they should cast their votes for General Harrison, believing as I did that a soldier should be nominated.

To What Gen. Alger Expects.

"Second to him I asked them to support Senator Sherman. If any money was used, which I do not believe, to purchase votes from the south it was against my positive instructions, and no bill of the kind has ever been presented to or paid by me. I never could understand why Senator Sherman should try to blight the name of a man who has never by any act injured him or any other man." The quotations to which General Alger excepts are those in which Senator Sherman in referring to the contest for the presidential nomination of 1888 writes: "I believe, and had as I thought conclusive proof, that the friends of General Alger substantially purchased the votes of many of the delegates from the southern states who had been instructed by their conventions to vote for me."

Refers to Blaine and Conkling.

Sherman says he has no reason to believe that General Harrison resorted in the slightest degree to any improper or corrupt combination to secure his nomination, and adds that the only feeling of resentment that he himself entertained was "in regard to the action of the friends of General Alger in tempting with money poor negroes to violate the instructions of their constituents." Senator Sherman in this volume dwells upon the history of his part in the Hayes cabinet, and gives a pretty complete history of the famous controversy between Blaine and Conkling, which was a momentous event in the political history of the next few years.

Credits His Defeat to New York.

In speaking of the contest for the nomination of 1888 Sherman says: "On Monday, June 25, I did not anticipate a change of the first ballot from the last one on Saturday. I did expect from my dispatches that the nomination would be made that day, and in my favor, but as the result proved an arrangement had been made on Saturday that practically secured the nomination of General Harrison. From the best information I could gather from many persons with whom I conversed I have no hesitation in expressing the opinion that I was defeated for the nomination by New York.

Says a Corrupt Deal Was Made.

"I believed then, as I believe now, that one of the delegates from the state of New York practically controlled the whole delegation, and that a corrupt bargain was made on Sunday which transferred the great body of the vote of New York to General Harrison and thus led to his nomination. It is to the credit of General Harrison to say that if the reputed bargain was made it was made without his consent at the time, nor did he carry it into execution.

POWERS TO GET TOGETHER.

Indications That Europe Is Growing Weary of Turkish Procrastination.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—A dispatch to The Times from Vienna says that on the initiative of Count Goluchowski, the Austrian minister of foreign affairs, a formal exchange of the views of the cabinets of the six powers has commenced with a view to arriving at a collective decision as to the best way of dealing with the Armenian problem.

A Standard dispatch from Constantinople says that Lord Salisbury's speech last Saturday at the lord mayor's dinner has thrown the sultan and the members of the court into a state of panic. Abdul Hamid entertains the greatest fears of a declaration by the powers extending their jurisdiction over a portion of the Turkish empire or the calling of a general European conference. It is generally agreed, however, that the end is not far distant.

Horrible Slaughter of Teachers.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—A dispatch to the Cologne Gazette from Constantinople says that all the Armenian Christian teachers in the Trebizond and Erzeroum districts have been killed.

Illinois Men at Savannah.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 14. — Governor Altgeld, of Illinois, and staff, and Mayor Swift, of Chicago, with a large party of prominent men of that city, escorted by the First regiment of Illinois, arrived here at daybreak. The local military met the visiting companies and escorted them to the several armories. The civilians were met by Mayor Myers and a committee, who escorted them to the steamship Nacochetee. While the vessel was moving down the river speeches of welcome and responses were made.

Bozeman Tunnel Fire Out.

LIVINGSTON, Mont., Nov. 14.—The fire in the Bozeman tunnel, which has been raging furiously for the past nine weeks, has at last burned itself out. The tunnel is now about clear of smoke and deadly gases, and nothing much but steam is at present issuing from either end. A force of men has been put to work and as soon as the tunnel cools sufficiently the task of cleaning it out will be commenced.

Germany to Grab an Island.

SOUTH PACIFIC VOLCANOES.

The Most Destructive and Terrible of Any In the World.

The bay of Naples and Sicily are small and insignificant volcano districts beside the northern peninsula of the island of Celebes, just to the east of Borneo, in the south Pacific ocean. Vesuvius and Etna are of little moment in comparison with the volcanic chain that studs this island region, flanked by its hills and heaps of lava and ashes. One or the other of the volcanoes in this great chain is continually belching forth, throwing up, if not streams of lava and great stones, then fluid clay, that is blue, gray and red.

The Donda, 9,000 feet in height, and the Sapoetan, 6,000 feet high, are the two great volcanoes of the district, and each of them has been in eruption several times during this past century. Were it not a sparsely settled country the loss of life would be terrible there. But there is no Pompeii to be destroyed. The inhabitants, wild and savage natives, live far away from the volcanoes and quite out of the reach of their torrents.

Klabat, or "Two Summits," another terrible volcano, is marked by a great lake in its crater, and not far away is the Doewa Soedara, "Two Sisters." Still another is the Lakon, which local tradition says is inhabited by an evil spirit and from which there came a fearful eruption 500 years ago, which devastated the entire district.

All the islands around the northern end of Celebes are volcanic. The archipelago that runs to the Philippine islands to the north is dotted with active mouths of fire, important among which is the superb pyramidal volcano Aboe (which, being translated, means "ashes") and Gunova Awa, which in all probability has been the most destructive volcano the world has ever known.

Thousands of the inhabitants of Celebes, in 1812, in 1856 and in 1871, were buried beneath the streams of hot ashes and lava that came in molten sheets and utterly overwhelmed them. All these islands are nevertheless a paradise in the luxuriance of their vegetation and the multiplicity of their animal life. In them the virgin forests have never felt the touch of the ax.

Holland owns these islands now, having made provinces of them as soon as she gained a foothold in the far east. Of Malay and Alfooroos race are the people, the more civilized population of the coast being Malay, the savage tribes of the interior Alfooroos. There are many tribes in Celebes, some of Philippine origin, others of Papuan. The Bougis tribe is yet another of the dominant population, savages strong and skillful and without the possibility of civilization in them.

These fellows the Dutch government have essayed to train as soldiers because of their strength and power of legs and arms, but the attempt proved unsuccessful because of the Bougis disposition to "run amuck" whenever excited by drinking or gambling. When in that state, they become wild and frenzied and stab, hit and thrust until they are knocked down and bound. The only way the Dutch policemen of Celebes can capture them is by using a sort of fork which keeps the madman at a distance. It takes two or more policemen to capture a single Bougis.—Exchange.

A Valuable Parcel.

A man in rustic attire shambled along the streets of Berlin, carrying in his hand a packet which was sealed and addressed, and with an inscription in the corner to the effect that it contained £25 in notes. A passerby, who was struck with the sheepish look of the man, asked him what he was looking for. By way of reply the countryman held the packet under his nose and asked him to read the address, as he had forgotten it and was unable to read himself. In a tone of pleasurable surprise the other replied:

"By Jove, the parcel is for me! I have been expecting it ever so long!"

The messenger appeared satisfied at having accomplished his mission and added that he wanted half a crown for his trouble, which was paid on the spot. The new owner of the parcel at once retired to a dark corner to examine his treasure. He found nothing but a couple of sheets of printed paper, and in the middle a white label with the single word, "Sold!"—Berlin Letter.

A Witty Judge.

Sir Henry Hawkins has a reputation as a witty judge. Recently a prisoner pleaded guilty of larceny and then withdrew the plea and declared himself to be innocent. The case was tried, and the jury acquitted him. Then said Sir Henry Hawkins:

"Prisoner, a few minutes ago you said you were a thief. Now the jury say you are a liar. Consequently you are discharged."—London Sun.

Health Commissioner's Report.

TO THE CITIZENS OF DIXON:

Your Health Commissioner makes the following report in regard to the death of Mrs. Henry Benson, on October 21st, 1895:

On the 21st of October, 1895, at 11:30 o'clock, a. m., Mr. Benson came to my office and wanted me to see his wife, who he said was very sick, and that he thought she would die. I asked him if he did not have a Doctor. He said "not now" I started to see his wife and when we got into the buggy I asked him when a doctor had last seen his wife and he told me that doctor Garrison had been with his wife at 10 o'clock that morning. I then told him I could not go, without his telling Dr. Garrison that he would like me to see his wife in consultation. He got out of the buggy and I went to my dinner. When I came back from dinner, I drove to the Nachusa House barn, to have my horse fed, and there saw Charles Ball and was talking with him about some cases of diphtheria, when Dr. Vaughn came up and told me that he had just come from a very bad case of diphtheria at the corner of Third street and Monroe avenue, and that the women's name was Benson. I told Mr. Ball to go down and put up a diphtheria sign, which he did; I also told Dr. Vaughn that if I could be of any use in the case to let me know and I would do what I could to help the woman. When I got to my office, I found pushed under my door the following letter:

Office of Harriet E. Garrison, M. D., No. 5 East Second St., Dixon, Ill., Oct. 22, 1895.

DR. D. H. LAW, Health Officer, city.

Dear Sir:—On Monroe avenue, corner of Third street is a woman named Mrs. Benson who is dying of heart failure following an invasion of throat catarahl trouble. I have not considered it diphtheria, as all similar cases in former years have been called catarahl fever. Last night the fire was allowed to go out and the room became cold and then there was a sudden invasion of the larynx with symtoms of heart failure. I would like to have a microscopical examination of the discharge of the throat that I may know whether it is diphtheria as asserted by Dr. Vaughn, for if it is I should like to report any other cases, as I have two or three daily with the same train of symptoms up to the invasion of last night.

Yours very respectfully.
(signed) H. E. GARRISON, M. D.

P. S. Will you see the case immediately.

Soon after getting to my office, Dr. Vaughn called and asked me to go and see Mrs. Benson with him, which I did. On going into the room where the woman was, I got that sweet, musty smell that I have always found in well-advanced cases of diphtheria. The woman was lying on her back, unable to speak, face ashy, blue, heart's action very feeble; in fact, the woman was dying. We got her mouth open and found the throat filled with a dense russet membrane. The pharynx and soft palate was involved and I think the epiglottis, larynx and trachea were also involved. I got some of the membrane, put it in a bottle, put the bottle in wax, then in cotton, and a wooden box, and sent it by express to the Illinois State Board of Health. When I got back to my office, I at once telephoned to Dr. Garrison what I had done and that I thought the disease was diphtheria. I also told Dr. Vaughn that I believed the disease was diphtheria, but whether true or psudo, I did not know. Both true and psudo diphtheria are contagious and infectious—both have psudo membraneous exudate.

True diphtheria is due to the Klebs Loeffler bacillus and usually associated with streptococcus and other bacilli. True diphtheria is much more fatal than psuda diphtheria, where the membrance is so slight that we may overlook it for some days and then in a short time an extensive fibrious exudate forms and the patient dies in a few hours. Sometimes there is but little fever, if any; in fact the child or person may go around at their play or work for some days with so slight an illness as to be overlooked by themselves and others, and suddenly be stricken down and die in a few hours. The above facts and the condition in which I found Mrs. Benson and my belief that the case was diphtheria caused me to strictly quarantine the house in which she died. The specimens from the Illinois State Board of Health have not reached me yet.

The following letters will explain themselves:

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Oct. 24, 1895.

DEAR DOCTOR:

Your communication of the 21st inst., together with the package containing the suspected membrane, received. In answer to the communication permit me to state that this board has no facilities in the way of laboratory in the examination of such membrane, but this case I have sent to an expert bacteriologist and chemist, a friend of mine, and will make a report to you in a very few days—probably tomorrow.

Very truly,
(Signed) J. W. SCOTT, M. D.,
Secretary.

D. H. LAW, M. D. Galena avenue and Second St., Dixon, Ill.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Nov. 1, 1895.

DEAR DOCTOR:

Enclosed please find report of the analysis of the membrane sent me on the 24th inst. I regret that owing to some difficulty the incubator in the laboratory, it was impossible to get a perfect culture. However, this may be of some use to you in determining the character of this case and anticipating the nature of the other cases which may result from this contagion.

Very truly,
(Signed) J. W. SCOTT, M. D.
Secretary.

D. H. LAW, M. D., Dixon, Illinois.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Oct. 31, 1895.

DR. J. W. SCOTT, Secretary Illinois State Board of Health.

DEAR SIR:

I have made three cultures from the specimen of membrane sent me and find streptococcus in each. These would of course be found in tonsilitis or quinsy. Excuse delay in making report as the incubator was not in operation when the specimen was received. I will make a specimen or two and you can forward them to physicians who sent the sample here.

Very respectfully,
(Signed) L. C TAYLOR.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Nov. 2, 1895.

DEAR DOCTOR:

I forwarded to you yesterday the report of Dr. Taylor on the suspected membrane you forwarded to this office. I regret there was so much delay, but as you will see by Dr. Taylor's report it was unavoidable. I will forward the specimens which are being prepared by Dr. Taylor to you as soon as they are received. I am glad you have taken hold of the diphtheria in your city and if you carry out your policy of complete isolation, disinfection and ventilation, there can be no doubt that you will soon have the disease under control.

Very truly,
(Signed) J. W. SCOTT, M. D.,
Secretary.

D. H LAW, M. D., Dixon, Illinois.

I believe that the disease that is among us is diphtheria from the fact that from all cases where the diphtheria antitoxin serum has been used the membrane has cleared off and the fever disappeared in a few hours. I understand this antitoxin will only destroy the Klebs Loeffler bacillus which is said to cause true diphtheria, but not the Streptococcus that is said to be the cause of pseudo diphtheria. It is more than likely that we have both diseases with us. We all know that we have a throat disease that is causing death in many cases, and I will quarantine and strictly isolate all such cases so far as I can. You may give the disease any name you please; I know it is spreading from house to house and town to town and causing death. It is much better to use preventive medicine than curative medicine. I have not received the specimens as yet.

Respectfully.
D. H. LAW.

Grace Church Revivals.

The inclemency of the weather kept some people away from the meeting last night, yet a goodly number were present and the result was one of the most blessed meetings held during the revival. An inspiring song service was again conducted by Rev. Caton and after prayer the bishop preached a short and spicy sermon on Psalm 34: 8: "Oh, taste and see that the Lord is good!" The speaker believes in a religion that can be tasted and enjoyed. If religion does not make a man happy it is not genuine, or else there is not enough of it in the heart. The best way to ascertain the reality and quality of Christ's religion is to "taste" it. We may tell the world all about Christianity and the Lord's work in the human heart, but everyone must come for himself and experience its saving power. Christ's redemption is ready; all is finished; but the sinner must come, eat, drink and receive it that he may have life and have it more abundantly.

The Bishop seems to do thorough work, both with saint and sinner. He works for quality rather than quantity. There is no doubt a great harvest will result from the faithful sowing of seed that has been going on since his presence among us. After the sermon one seeker was earnesily labored with. Then followed one of the sweetest testimony meetings yet held. It did good to every converted heart.

The afternoon Bible reading was on the subject of house to house visitation. It was proved beyond all doubt that house to house visitation was a thorough apostolic method to win souls to Christ. There is not sufficient done in this direction, and if more were done many thousand would be saved that are now on the way to ruin.

Tonight a glorious time is expected. Let no one miss the splendid opportunity.

The Great Brownie Spectacle.

C. B. Jefferson, Klaw and Erlanger's mammoth production of "Palmer Cox's Brownies," the world's greatest spectacle, will be at the Columbia Theatre, in Chicago for three weeks, beginning Monday evening, Nov. 18th. The production is on a scale of such magnitude that it only can be presented on the stages of the largest theatres throughout the country, and the engagement at the Columbia theatre, in Chicago, will furnish to our people the only opportunity to witness the greatest spectacle the world has ever seen. Such thrilling effects as a storm and shipwreck at sea, an earthquake and a volcano, and the instant destruction of a magnificent palace are marvelously presented in "The Brownies," and the grand transformation scene, "A Night in Brownieland," is gorgeous in the extreme.

I call the attention of those interested in the mechanical branch of my business to the UNEQUALED QUALITY OF ALUMINUM PLATES I MANUFACTURE. The success I have had with them enables me to GUARANTEE THEM INDEFINITELY AGAINST Breakage and Mishap, common to the rubber plates. The metal is a perfect conductor of temperatures, produces a cooling wholesome sensation to the palate, and absorption of the tissues of the mouth cannot take place when this metal is worn. In the last three years I have manufactured over three hundred of these plates, and not one that has been delivered, and paid for, has been returned with complaint. I have no competition in the production of this class of work, as the combining of the metals used in making the dies, over which the plates are formed, the casting of the dies and their preparation for swedging, the adapting of the plates to the mouth after they are swedged, and the final whitening of the metal (which makes it permanently white) are original methods which I shall protect as long as they are of value to me.

Overcoat Department.

This is the right time for you to purchase an Overcoat. The reason we say now, is because we are naming some decidedly Low Prices on them. Little did we expect to sell overcoats in November at prices we quote. But the old adage: "Time and Tide Wait for no Man." A sacrifice in overcoats never heard of before in November. Think of it, to buy an All Wool Kersey Overcoat, elegantly trimmed with deep velvet collars, an actual $15.00 value, at $10.00 You certainly cannot afford to be without one at that price. While it may seem high for some to put $10.00 into an overcoat, we have placed on sale those world renowned Washington Beaver Overcoats, never retailed by any one less than $10.00 to $12.00, at a price within the reach of all $7.50. Our Storm King Ulsters must also lend to this Great Sacrifice Sale, and as it is impossible to describe our vast stock of these, we would say that the cut in prices exists precisely same as in all other goods.
